GAN YOUR FEELING!

Welcome to Stockton

Welcome to Stockton, California!

We look forward to working with you and providing your organization with the finest facilities for your event. Stockton has a long history of being a great host to hundreds of regional, state and national sporting events, and yours, no matter how large or small, will receive top notch service and attention.

Stockton's central location, great weather and excellent public and university facilities make our city an ideal location for your tournament, game or sporting event. Stockton has grown from a community of rich agricultural roots to an urban destination blooming with arts, culture, great dining, shopping, sport and recreation and family activities. Stockton is a friendly community. We welcome you to join our Stockton family with plenty to do for your players, families and friends before and after your event.

Our more than 2,000 hotel rooms and hundreds of restaurants are ready to roll out the red carpet and provide you with the highest level of service and hospitality. We are confident you will be impressed when you come for a site visit to Stockton and we are ready to go above and beyond to make your event a huge success.

Sincerely,

Ann Johnston
Mayor, City of Stockton

WELCOME LETTER

CAN YOU FEEL IT?

The rush of adrenaline. The racing heart of an athlete. The energy of competition.

Stockton is pulsating with the energy that radiates from the talented athletes who call it home and you can feel it in the air. Recently named California's #1 Minor League Sports city, Stockton boasts three professional teams which call the Downtown Waterfront Events Center home. With its central location and world-class venues, Stockton is also known as a sports destination for local, regional, state, national and international sporting events and tournaments.

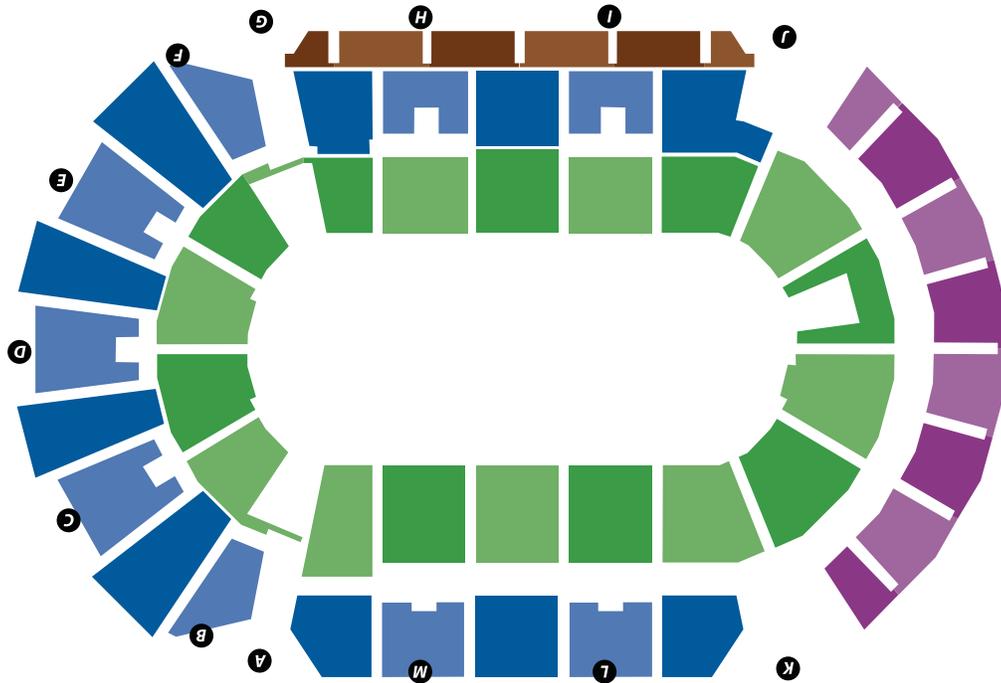

Professional athletes and amateurs alike will find their passion for sports fulfilled by Stockton's diverse offerings. Whether it's a rousing hockey game, an evening at the ballpark, 18- holes on a lush golf course or a white-knuckle Mixed Martial Arts match that raises your heart rate, there is something to entertain and excite every fan.

3603 St. Andrews Drive, Stockton, CA 95219 • (209) 956-6200

www.brooksidegolf.net

18 hole, 6720 yds, Par 72. In designing Brookside's 18-Hole Championship Golf Course, world famous golf course architect Robert Trent Jones, Jr. took bold steps to transform level land into a strongly contoured test of golf strategy and skill with a Scottish flavor nestled around fourteen lakes. The par-72 course was designed for golfers of all ages and levels of play. Multiple tees vary the length of each hole, offering a fair test for all. According to Jones, Brookside has what every great course has, "a combination of strong golfing values and rich visual aesthetics."

18 hole, 6470 yds, Par 71. In the mid-1990's all eighteen greens were rebuilt according to USGA specifications. Stockton Golf & Country Club was honored in 1990 by being designated as one of the golf courses to host the qualifying rounds for the US Open. Many prestigious golfers have also been hosted over the years including Ben Hogan, Arnold Palmer, Doug Sanders, Gary Player, Lee Trevino, and Johnny Miller. The club is proud to be known as the home course for Ricky Barnes, 2002 US Amateur Champion.

18 hole, 7000 yds, Par 72. The Reserve at Spanos Park Golf Course was opened in 1999 and sits on 360 acres of lakes, wetlands and working farmland. The 18-hole championship course was designed by noted golf course architect Andy Raugust, formerly a member of the Jack Nicklaus design team. The course features seven lakes coming into play on 12 holes, strategically-placed bunkers and fast-breaking, well-protected greens that put a premium on shotmaking. Four sets of tees on each hole help balance the difficulty of the course, which presents a unique and extraordinarily picturesque golf experience for players of all levels.

Children’s Museum of Stockton

402 W. Weber Avenue, Stockton • 209.465.4386
www.stocktongov.com

The Stockton Children’s Museum is located in downtown Stockton, across from the Deep Water Channel and the Waterfront Warehouse. An educational experience from the moment young visitors step through the door, the museum features hands-on, play-based exhibits that will enhance a child’s understanding of how the world works. On the exhibit floor over a dozen different child-sized environments recreate the ambience of a small city where merchants, bankers and doctors might mingle among the grocery shoppers, fast food customers and canning crew. At each exhibit in the museum’s tiny town, there are tools and/or machines that can be manipulated by the children, who weigh postcards at the post office, count money at the bank and perform tasks of that particular occupation.
